Softers Webcreate

You are conveniently able to create and update Web pages yourself with Softers WebCreate user interface. The editing view resembles the most common word processing programs, e.g. MS Word. The results can be seen real-time while editing. The text is modified with symbolic buttons and images can be saved to the system from one's own computer. Picture sizes can be modified with the click of a mouse. The system's appearance can be designed by our graphic designers. After that, the company is free to do all needed text editing and image adding tasks. The system is protected with user name and password, which makes sure that outsiders do not have access to editing.
